

As a part of the Dussehra celebrations, In the case of weapons of war, they are also cleaned, bedecked with flowers and tilak and placed in a line, adjacent to a wall

Shastra Puja - the traditional worship of weapons of war in which they are cleaned, bedecked with flowers and tilak, placed in a line and is finished by breaking of a coconut before the weapons. In our unit, shastra puja was performed on the 11 SLR's (Self Loading Rifle) in which all the council members together cleaned the guns in the morning and organised the puja.
